You should write about 100 words on the ANSWER SHEET.

Do not sign your own name at the end of the letter. Use Li Ming instead.

Do not write the address.

范文

Dear Mr. Black,

I am writing this letter for the purpose of informing you of my decision to resign from my current post of ×××（职位） I feel thankful for the help you and colleagues gave to me during the past two months.

I am really sorry for my resignation, but the job as ×××（职位） is not suitable to me. During the past two months, I have not made any contribution to this company. What's worse, I know that the knowledge I lack causes my present situation, so I decide to quit my present job and to pursue further study.

Your prompt attention to this letter would be highly appreciated. I apologize for any trouble caused by my resignation, and wish all of you every success.

Yours sincerely ,

Li Ming

To : All students of the English Department

From: Li Ming

Date: March 5, 2020

Subject: Spring Excursion

As spring arrives and the weather turns to be agreeable, the department has decided to make a spring excursion to a suburban country.

The two-day excursion is intended to relax our mind and enjoy the nature. And it won't cost us penny. The activities involve mountain climbing and picnicking, which require us to bring some food and wear comfortable shoes. Those interested in this outing are reminded to sign up with their class monitors before the next Sunday (March 15)

All the students of the English Department are welcome to join in it.

范文

To: Professor Yan

From: Li Ming

Date: January 5, 2020

Subject: Progress Report on Graduation Thesis

This is the first progress report that you asked me to submit about my graduation paper.

In recent weeks, I've gathered a certain amount of information and material from our school library and an interview with an expert. Of the twelve references listed, I've found nine in the library and for the others I will go to hunt in other academic libraries. As for the interview, I had an extended communication with Professor Li from XXX University, who was kind enough to lend me some relevant books. I believe these material will help me conceive of the preliminary draft.

Starting tomorrow, I will begin organizing my research paper. And I can be expected to submit a rough draft by the end of this month.

Directions: Write an essay based on the following graph. In your writing you should

1) describe the graph and

2) give your comments.

You should write about 150 words.

Write your essay on the ANSWER SHEET.

As is clearly described in the graph above, some important changes have taken place in the past several years in terms of the number of migrant workers pouring into the city. In the year of 2000, the number of migrant workers in the city was no more than 50 thousand, but within no more than several years, it went up to 100 thousand in 2005, and soared to nearly 700 thousand after another five years. Obviously, it indicates that a large number of provincial people come to the city.

It is no difficult job for us to put forward some factors responsible for these changes. At the top of the list, the majority of the Chinese population is constituted by people coming from rural areas who are generally poor. In the light of a recent Internet survey, approximately 80% of the youngsters in the country cannot afford a house and are in need of improving their living environment. In addition, there are all kinds of opportunities in city circumstances as well as higher salary. Finally, with the development of economy, a multitude of labor is in great demand in all walks of life in the city.

Taking into account what has been discussed above, one conclusion can be safely drawn that the current situation is positive and should be advocated. I am certain that this trend will continue in the forthcoming years.

Write an essay based on the chart below. In your writing, you should

- 1) interpret the chart, and
- 2) Give your comments

You should write about 150 words.

Write your essay on the ANSWER SHEET

Write your essay on the ANSWER SHEET.

十年间人们饮食结构发生的变化

Food \ Year	2000	2002	2005	2008	2010
Grain	49%	47%	46.5%	45%	40%
Milk	10%	11%	11%	12%	13%
Meat	17%	20%	22.5%	23%	26%
Fruit and Vegetables	24%	22%	20%	20%	21%
Total	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%

As is clearly described in the table above, great changes have taken place in the past decade in terms of people's diet. The consumption of grain, the staple food of our daily life, has been on a rapid decline all the time. Based on the data provided, one can see that the consumption percentage of grain was 49% in 2000, but it dropped to 40% in 2010. By contrast, some high energy food, such as milk and meat, has been on a steady increase.

It is no difficult job for us to come up with some factors responsible for these changes. At the top of the list, with the rapid development of economy, common people can make better profit, so they can afford the once expensive necessities such as milk and meat. In addition more and more people come to recognize the importance of a balanced diet in which milk and meat are indispensable. Finally, the booming manufacture industry has made the adequate supply of various food products possible, which promotes the popularity of milk and meat.

Taking into consideration what has been discussed. So far, we are very glad to see that this phenomenon indicates the better-off living standards of people. But on the other hand, eating too much high-energy food will lead to some diseases. Therefore, we should attach much importance to the balance of diet in our daily life.

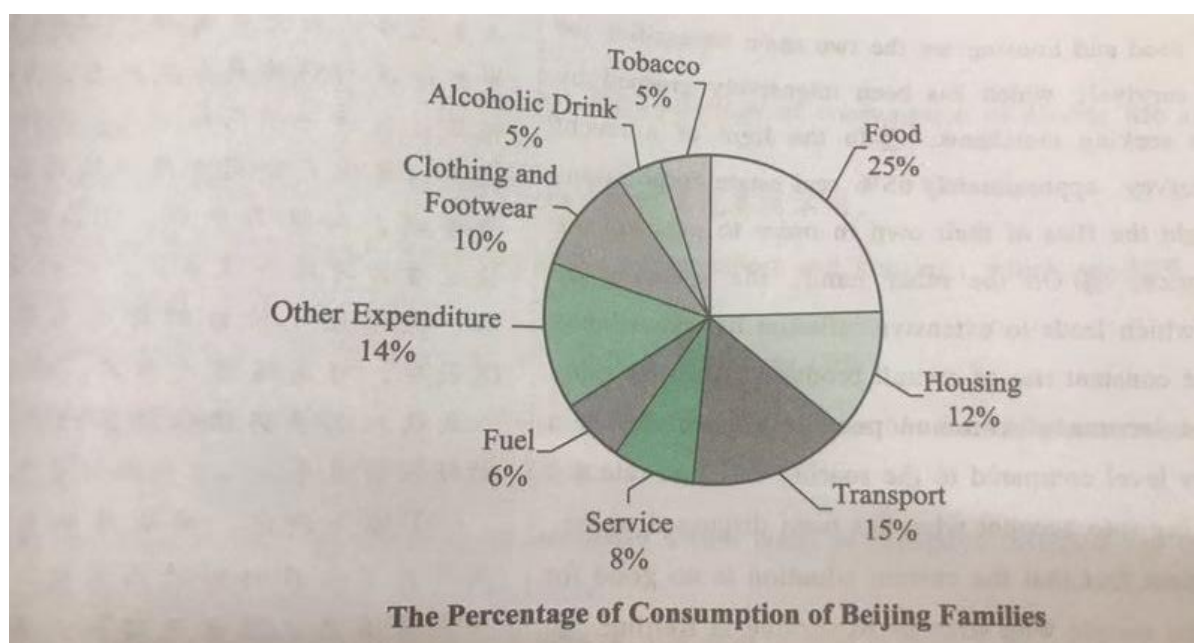

2021 级联考冲刺——英文每日 1 题 day8

Write an essay based on the chart below. In your writing, you should

- 3) interpret the chart, and
- 4) Give your comments

You should write about 150 words.

Write your essay on the ANSWER SHEET

As is depicted in the pie chart above, the percentage of consumption diverse life aspects is different. The main expenditure of an average Beijing family is spent on food, which accounts for 25 % of its total expenditure. The next two significant expending items are transport and housing, which are 15% and 12% respectively. From these figures given above one can easily see that the cost of living in Beijing is very high.

It is no difficult job for us to put forward some factors responsible for this phenomenon. At the top of the list, food and housing are the two main necessities for human's survival, which has been intensively grasped by the profit seeking merchants. In the light of a recent Internet survey, approximately 65% real estate corporations have brought the flats of their own in order to push up the housing price. On the other hand, the speeding up economy which leads to extensive inflation has contributed a lot to the constant rise of overall products. In the end, the average income of common people still remains at a relative low level compared to the soaring inflation rate.

Taking into account what has been discussed so far, it is an evident fact that the current situation is no good for the provincial people who struggle to survive in Beijing. Needless to say, we should take some drastic measures to alleviate the worsening trend, if we want to attract more talent from other places.

2021 级联考冲刺——英文每日 1 题 day9

As is clearly shown in the chart, some remarkable changes have taken place in the past several years in terms of new student enrollment. It increased sharply from 610 thousand in 1995 to 2.7 million in 2005. Likewise, the total number of students in college went up drastically from 2.1 million in 1995 to 7.2 million in 2005, then soaring to 9 million within a year.

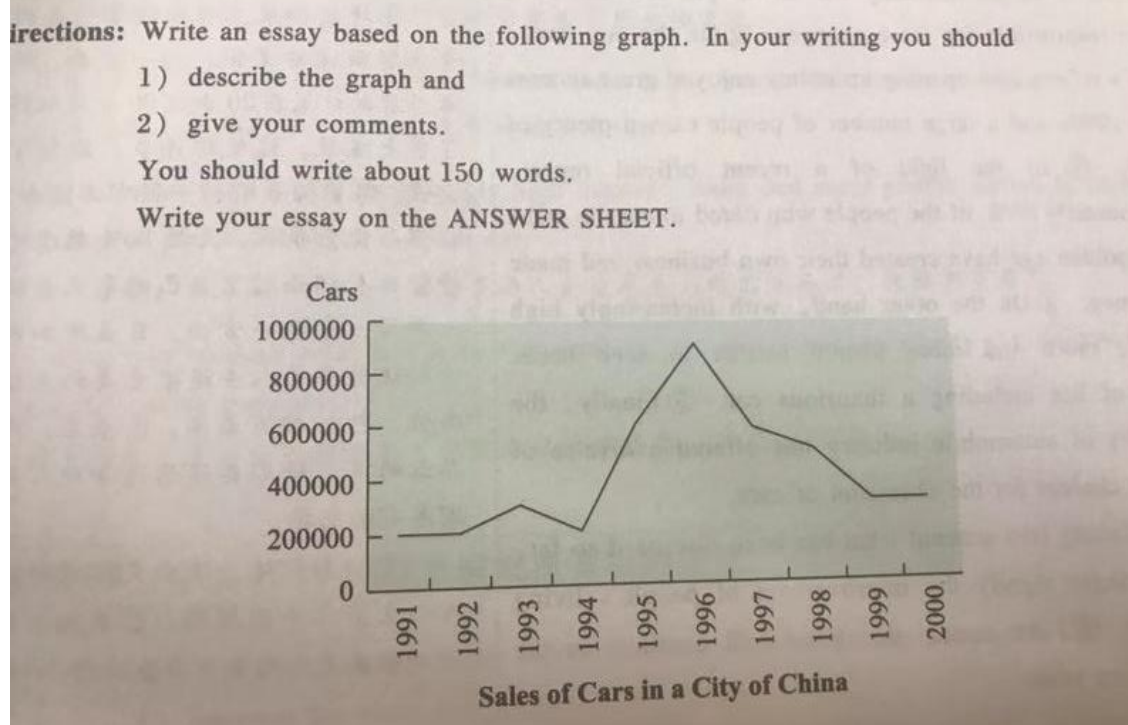

It is of no difficulty for me to put forward some advantages that these changes may bring about. First of all, with more and more students receiving higher education, there will be plenty of talent in all walks of life, which could contribute to a more powerful nation. According to a recent official report, China has already become a major power in human resources owing to the rapid growth of university enrollment. In addition, with the prevalence of higher education, the whole national quality has been promoted which is beneficial to the development of democracy and harmony. Finally, more and more people have the ability to grasp foreign countries in the right way which will bridge the gap between China and other countries.

However, it also poses some challenges. On the one hand, with more and more college graduates entering the job market, the already fierce competition may be even worse. On the other hand, the teaching staff construction cannot catch up with the fast growth of enrollment.

2021 级联考冲刺——英文每日 1 题 day10

As is shown in the graph above, some remarkable changes have taken place in terms of the sales of cars in the past several years. In the original years, the number remained at a relatively stable state, about 200,00 annually. But it went up sharply from 1994 to 1996, reaching 900,00 in 1996. From then on, the sales continued to reduce.

It is of no difficulty for me to put forward some factors responsible for these changes. On the one hand, China's reform and opening up policy enjoyed great success in the 1990s and a large number of people earned plenty of money. In the light of a recent official report, approximately 80% of the people who dared to eat the crabs in the golden age have created their own business and made big money. On the other hand, with increasingly high income, more and more people incline to seek better quality of life including a luxurious car. Finally, the prosperity of automobile industry has offered a diverse of optional choices for the obsession of cars.

Taking into account what has been discussed so far, these changes signify the improvement of people's living standards. I am certain this trend will continue in the forthcoming years.
